1       forthcoming.

2               MR. SATTERLEY: May I respond, Your Honor?

3               THE COURT: Of course.

4               MR. SATTERLEY: First of all, Counsel is not 5       being candid with the Court. These PLM slides that 6       they're referring to relates to one bottle of a 2022 7       sample we got in Merced, California, the city where 8       Mr. Valadez lives. And he never used the bottle.

9               The point of the bottle is, they claim to have 10      taken this product off the marketplace in 2020, and two 11      years later -- over two years later, it's still in the 12      marketplace. So this is relating to one bottle. So 13      worst-case scenario, you would only be excluding that 14      one bottle.

15              But I was wrong when I wrote no slides remain.
16      The slides remain, but they're deteriorated. And they 17      know this because their experts will tell them the oil 18      that's on the slides doesn't last. It deteriorates very 19      rapidly. So the slides are still there, but you can't 20      do anything with them because the technology doesn't 21      allow you to do anything once the slide deteriorates.

22              Now, they didn't tell you -- I mean, they were 23      candid with the Court -- the sample in question, we 24      followed -- they've sent us the protocol to have this 25      sample split, videotaped, and shipped to their
